WHEAT IN CHICAGO went above $1.50 yesterday. You were advised in this column, if you needed any wheat to buy it, some time ago, when it was selling at $1.18.

This price of wheat will make a difference to Mr. Coolidge.

EUGENE MEYER, JR., head of the War Finance Corporation, who understands money, tells Secretary Mellon that farmers will get one billion dollars cash for their wheat this year. They are rushing wheat to market at the high prices, and still the price goes higher.

Corn is going up also, and cotton gained "100 points" yesterday. Don't sell this country short.

THE SON of Prime Minister MacDonald will try newspaper work for experience and to make a living.

It is a good business to START in, bad business to STAY in. Ninety per cent. of newspaper workers find that the older they grow the less there is in it. Long service and experience with journalists, as with Ziegfeld Folly girls, are a handicap. The reasons would take too much space.

IN CANADA, where they don't mince matters, they will hang six men on October 24 for killing one bank messenger.

In Ohio Governor Donahey says, "Age is no extenuation," and Alexander Kuzelk, nineteen years old, will hang October 19.

But even in old times, as you may learn in Westermarck's fine history of the evolution of moral ideas, age made SOME difference.

IN THE MIDDLE AGES, not only men, but animals were tried for murder when they killed a human being, and, if "guilty," were executed. On a certain occasion a sow, with her litter of suckling pigs, had killed and eaten a young child. The sow mother and her offspring were tried in court. The sow was condemned to death, the little pigs were spared, on the ground that "because of their extreme youth they could not be held responsible."

SOME MURDERERS have been hanged in the United States with intelligence not far above that of the suckling pigs spared by mediaeval justice.

AMONG LETTERS by George Washington, to be sold in London, one to his Philadelphia dentist tells how much trouble Washington had with his false teeth. They were strung on wires and got loose. They looked about as natural, when he wore them, as a set of small golf balls, being cut out of solid ivory.

CIVILIZATION does not realize what it owes to dentists and oculists, good false teeth and good spectacles.

Think of the ancient Greeks, to whom false teeth and eye glasses were unknown. The marvel is that so many of them lived to be old.

EUROPEAN STATESMEN say the League of Nations "protocol" is the "most formidable obstacle to war ever devised by the human mind." That arrangement by the league will make war impossible. That being the case, of course, the league will now stop the war in China and war between Spaniards and Moors in Morocco.

IF RUSSIA should attack Poland or Rumania just how would that "protocol" prevent war? It would be necessary to conscript Englishmen and Frenchmen and send them to fight Russia. Any who think Englishmen and Frenchmen would go on that errand are misinformed.

GENERAL CHANG, energetic Chinese military gangster, hasn't been told about the league ending all wars. He puts a price of $200,000 Mexican money upon the head of his enemy, Tsao Kun, and the same amount on the head of another enemy, Wu Pei-Fu. He offers $200,000, Mexican, for the capture of either of them alive. What he would do to them if he got them alive he doesn't say, but it would probably be something unpleasant.

COOLIDGE HOLDS POLL LEAD IN BAY STATE

For the first time since the Boston American's Presidential poll was begun in Greater Boston, John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for President, led his rivals.

This happened on the ninth day of the poll, when Mr. Davis received 215 votes, President Coolidge 194, and Senator Robert La Follette 124.

Comparatively speaking, it was Mr. Davis' best and Senator La Follette's poorest day. Two polls in South Boston, one in the neighborhood of the A street plant of the American Can Company and the other in the vicinity of the transfer station in Andrew square, were responsible for the drop in the Coolidge and the boost in the Davis figures.

In the Massachusetts race as a whole, however, Mr. Coolidge still retains a handsome lead. While

Hazel's Beautiful Eyes Help Her to Pass Bad Checks

Leominster, Oct. 3.—Beautiful Hazel Mitchell, whoever she is, swept her hazel eyes through Leominster and two local merchants are out $50 each.

Hazel gave a $50 check to Hamilton & Butterfield for $25 worth of shoes, and accepted $25 in change. She bought $2 worth of merchandise at another store and accepted $48 change from another $50 check.

The Fitchburg Bank and Trust Company on which the checks were drawn, does not have a Hazel Mitchell among its depositors. Police describe her as about twenty-eight years old, weighing 140 pounds, attractively dressed and wearing tortoise-shell glasses.

DETECTIVES PUT ON TRAIL OF SLAYER

State detectives were set at work today in an attempt to solve the murder of an unidentified man whose body, wrapped in a blanket and heavily weighted, was found in the bed of the Shawsheen River at Bedford.

Following a conference today with District Attorney Arthur K. Reading of Middlesex County, State officers Stokes and O'Neil, went to Bedford.

The slayer is believed to have used an axe. The man's skull was crushed and a heavy [illegible] sack together with several automobile cylinder heads, weighted the body.

There was nothing about the body that would aid in it identification. It appeared to be that of a man 40 years old, with a full, round and smooth shaven face, with a high forehead. The body had apparently been in the water about 15 days.

Harold Olhote and Fred Herring, the two Billerica boys who discovered the body, had attended school earlier in the day. At the close of the session they went to the turnpike bridge to fish for pickerel and perch. Scarcely had they dropped their lines when they were startled to see among the weeds at the bottom of the river what appeared to be a body wrapped in a blanket.

The appearance of the victim's hands indicated that he might have been a mill worker, and for that reason the police of Lowell and Lawrence started a search for missing men in the two cities.

NOT SHOT BY WIFE, REAM SAYS

Will Not Even Admit Wound as Result of Invading Party Where Spouse Was Guest

Danielson, Ct., Oct. 3.—Vigorous denial that he had been shot by his young and beautiful wife when he burst in on a gay bungalow party at Pomfret was made today to the State police here by Louis Marshall Ream, millionaire steel baron.

The millionaire vice-president of the American Steel & Wire Co. refused [illegible] to say whether he had been shot at all when he paid his angry visit to the bungalow at Aunt Absalose Von Slatski, where many joyous men and women had gathered.

After making his denial the steel baron again vanished, stating that he was going to his home in Thompson. He did not immediately proceed there, however, and had not arrived at a late hour today.

WIFE IS MUM.

Mrs. Ream, a beautiful brunette of 27 years, was alone with her servants in the Thompson home. With an airy wave of her slim hand she declined to talk of the midnight affair and declared she must hurry away to an employment office.

The party was in full progress when the millionaire, once the husband of a chorus girl, crowded his way in past servants and paid his respects to his wife. Also at the party was Count Nicholas Yonoff, Russian nobleman, now a resident of Providence.

Just what the young husband found is not known. But there was an argument between husband and wife. Then came a pistol shot.

Police intimate that the shooting was done by Mrs. Ream. The wife denies this, although she admits carrying a revolver and a permit to carry the weapon was recently issued to her by the Connecticut authorities.

Mrs. Ream refuses to discuss the shooting or the incidents which led up to it.

The cottage where the shooting took place is [illegible] Countess Von Slatski, who is a sister of Ream's.

[illegible] called at the Ream residence after the authorities learned of the shooting. They questioned Mrs. Ream, but learned nothing.

Until the authorities learn something more definite, no action will be taken.

In 1911, three years after graduation from Princeton, young Ream

PRINCE TO BE GUEST HERE

Tuckermans to Be Hosts to Wales at Hamilton Estate About Oct. 20

H. R. H., the Prince of Wales, gladdened the hearts of Boston society folk today by agreeing to spend two whole days in this part of Massachusetts before he goes sailing home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., will have the privilege of playing host to him at their handsome home in Hamilton.

Like the Prince himself, the Tuckermans are enthusiastic hunters and are members of the Myopia Hunt Club. It is probable that they and His Royal Highness will ride to hounds with that club during his brief stay.

ACCEPTS INVITATION.

Just now the Prince is "roughing it" on his Canadian ranch, pitching hay and riding almost constantly.

When he completes his Canadian visit and starts back to London he will make his Massachusets call. The date of his visit has not been determined, but probably will be about October 20.

Announcement that the invitation had been extended and finally accepted was made for the Prince at the British Ambassador's office in Washington.

In the Winter of 1922-1923 the Tuckermans were presented to the Prince of Wales while stopping in England. They hunted with him in Leicestershire. Others in that party were James W. Appleton, M. F. H., of the Myopia Hunt Club, and Mrs. Clarence Hay, daughter of Francis R. Appleton of Ipswich.

The Americans loyally praised their own hunt club and inoculated the young Prince with a desire to

MISSING BOY IS TRAMPING TO BOSTON

Young Franklin James Rosbek and "Hunchback" Reilly, Prince and Pompey—juvenile soldiers of fortune with the call of adventure singing in their ears—are believed bound for Boston.

On September 22, young Franklin Rosbek, son of Frank Rosbek, merchant with place of business at No. 145 West Thirtieth street, New York, left his school books in the vestibule and walked out of the home at No. [illegible] West Eighty-First street and vanished.

His chums had a tale of a youth, one "Hunchback" Reilly, who had thrilled the Rosbek lad with tales of adventure to be found out along the winding road.

More than fifty police say, it America has Franklin Rosbek been hunted since his strange vanishing. By train, by two score detectives, at steamship offices and docks, through newspaper appeals—in the slums and in the high places throughout the country—he has been sought without success.

The youths are held by the open road and have tramped a footsore, weary trail as far as North Wilbraham, the Boston American learned today, toward Boston.

IN NORTH WILBRAHAM

Two youths tramped up to John Doherty at the [illegible] Company plant in North Wilbraham. One was a boy of fourteen or sixteen, well dressed, diffident, of evident good family.

The other was a hunchback, a few years older, poorly clad and with the maturity of a man of the world. The hunchback, in the New York twang that is unmistakable, asked permission of Doherty to sleep in the company's barn.

Doherty, however, was compelled to refuse the request and when the hunchback said they were bound for

WAR OPENS AGAINST SCALPERS

Scores of Pasteboard Sharks Are Expected to Be Rounded Up Today

Washington, Oct. 3.—Faced by a World Series ticket scandal on the heels of the bribery expose that broke two days ago, metropolitan police and government agents today launched a drive to clear the city of ticket scalpers or put the scalpers in jail.

Charles Barnes was the first victim of the drive, which was undertaken in response to intense indignation among the fans.

Bureau of revenue and city police predicted that scores of scalpers would be in cells by night and the tickets back at the ball park for general sale.

The ticket scandal developed so swiftly, however, that it was met so promptly that many did not realize their [illegible].

FANS TURNED DOWN.

Numerous fans trekked out to the park only to be turned away after standing in line for hours.

"No seats" was the explanation. But on Pennsylvania avenue one could buy seats at first were reported, from $30 to $100.

Carl Griffith had been booed and several of the speculators had been threatened by angry crowds before the law took a hand.

Realizing the need of modifying an aroused public opinion, the baseball magnates did not protest the drastic house cleaning inaugurated by the federal authorities.

Never was there an atmosphere such as exists between the eve of a World Series. Everybody in authority is gloomy and most of them are frightened awaiting the sequel reaction to two scandals in one week.

Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh Pirates left Pittsburgh for Washington today, according to word from the former city.

DREYFUSS FURIOUS.

He was using about vigorous words when he left, and declared that Jimmy O'Connell and "Cozy" Dolan were not the only Giants implicated in the plot to bribe Sand, the Phillies' shortstop, in one of the crucial and closing games of the pennant race.

"I'M AN OUTCAST," SAYS O'CONNELL

New York, Oct. 3.—Jimmy O'Connell, Giant outfielder, one of the central figures in the scandal that has shocked baseball fandom, will return with his wife to his home in California, he said today. "Now I am an outcast and can only drift until this thing is cleared up—if ever it is," he said. "What I will do after that I don't know, I can't think. I am left adrift with the only big thing in life taken from me. I got mine for carrying out the orders of my boss."

was secretly wed to Eleanor Pendleton, a chorus beauty, who was playing in one of the leading musical comedy shows of that time.

The couple lived together just five days when Ream was summoned to the parental home in Thompson. He never lived with his bride after that time and some time later, the marriage was annulled in New York State.

The higher courts subsequently set aside the annulment and declared that the chorus girl was the actual wife of the young clubman-millionaire.

DIVORCED FIRST WIFE.

Shortly after the marriage the chorus girl was given $35,000 for not contesting the annulment proceedings. Later, when her status as Mrs. Ream was restored by the courts she was paid $210,000 by her husband, after which she secured a divorce.

Prior to the granting of the divorce, the husband, in court action, sought to show that his wife, living at a San Francisco hotel as the wife of another man and that her relations with a dancing partner had been improper in traveling from New York to Boston on a sleeper.

A few weeks after the divorce was secured by Wife No. 1, Ream married his present wife, Mary Louise Weaver, daughter of Charles S. Weaver, a retired lawyer of Chicago. The ceremony was performed in February, 1918.

LA FOLLETTE TO SWITCH DRIVE TO EAST AND N. E.

New York, Oct. 3.—An eleventh hour switch in campaign plans, whereby Senator La Follette would concentrate his personal campaign for the presidency in the New England States, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, will be discussed by the independent candidate and leaders of his movement at a conference in Washington today, according to Gilbert E. Roe, Eastern manager for the independent ticket. "I am confident the Senator Brookhart revolt has turned things our way in the West and Middle West," Mr. Roe said. "The pressure in the West is relieved. We are now concerned chiefly with prospects in the East."

follow the hounds across the beautiful North Shore country.

Ever since the arrival of the Prince there have been rumors that he would eventually accept to visit the Tuckermans. Mr. Tuckerman extended an invitation as soon as the Prince landed.

"His entertainment will be purely informal," said Mr. Tuckerman today. "We are naturally greatly pleased that he should care to visit us."

MAY BE DANCES.

While nobody has said so, it is assumed that the visit of His Royal Highness won't be so informal as not to include a dancing party or two or even a dinner party.

Boston has many distinguished citizens of British birth, not to mention Americans who would like to meet the Prince.

The Tuckerman house stands on a hill in a big estate which includes the Dodge fields, the best riding grounds in the Myopia hunting country.

cuetly and ordered his discharge. The charges were made by Chief of Police William E. Hill.

Woodlawn Cemetery was the favorite trysting place of the policeman and his woman friend, according to the evidence.

The watchman testified they met there many afternoons, the policeman driving a car owned by Fawcett's wife, who works days.

An Everett city official testified that while on a blueberrying expedition he came upon Fawcett's car parked in a grove off a country road in Peabody. The policeman and a woman were within. The official hurried on, but lingered long enough to make sure of the number plates.

WOMAN INDIGNANT.

The woman mentioned admitted under oath that she had seen a great deal of Fawcett, but she denied there was anything wrong in their meeting and was very much surprised that her husband should object.

The husband said he had warned Fawcett to keep away from his wife and the policeman had scorned to pay any attention to him.

Mrs. Fawcett, however, staunchly defends her husband and declares that she and the woman whose name was connected with Fawcett's were good friends—"like sisters," she put it.

Fawcett still has thirty days in which to file an appeal in the District Court.

Before his appointment to the force in 1919 he was known as "the original American Jinkman." His brother, Fred, is popularly known as "the dancing Jinkman."

The formal charge against Fawcett was conduct unbecoming an officer, neglect of duty and lying to his chief.

SERIES OF CHARGES.

He was charged with being anything but active at night, when he was on duty, and it was testified that he had gone to sleep in a garage, failed to poll in his patrol box and then had given untrue explanations to his superiors.

The evidence connecting him with a neighbor's wife was voluminous. Witnesses testified to seeing them together at Revere, on the Newburyport turnpike, in Everett and on Winter Hill, Somerville.

It was testified that once, when her husband refused to pay her bills, the policeman went gallantly to the rescue and paid for her purchases out of his own pocket.

CLEW TO BOY

Boston, Doheny advised that they go to the main Springfield-Boston road and hail a truck that would take them to Boston.

OFF TOWARDS PALMER.

The hunchback of the New York docks and his younger companion reared in a home of wealth, appeared to shy at the suggestion, however, and apparently were in favor of the back roads.

They tramped away again in the direction of Palmer, which is one town nearer Boston.

Some time later, it flashed into Doheny's head that their descriptions were those of Frankie Roshek and "Hunchback" Reilly. But then it was too late.

EVELYN NESBIT WINS, DIVORCE DECREE UPSET

New York, Oct. 3.—Supreme Court Justice O'Malley today set aside the divorce decree obtained last June by Virgil James Montani (Jack Clifford) against Evelyn Nesbit, who before her marriage to Montani was the wife of Harry K. Thaw.

Justice O'Malley decreed that the case must be tried again and set November 6 as the date for opening of the new trial. Miss Nesbit is to pay the taxable costs of the case incurred by Montani and also the costs incurred by Jan Luther, a motion picture actress, who was named as correspondent by Miss Nesbit.

BULLETS AND SPEED HALT SUSPECT

An alleged automobile thief was captured after he was fired on, an accomplice escaped, and a stolen car was recovered in an exciting chase in Arlington.

The man arrested gave his name as Harry Smith of No. 11 Norfolk street, Roxbury.

Sergeant Jacobs and Patrolman Morris Scannell of the Arlington station captured the alleged thief and recovered the stolen automobile.

The officers were at Lowell and Massachusetts avenues when they saw two young men drive by. The car acted suspiciously and the officers called headquarters and learned that the number plates on the car which had just passed corresponded with the plates on a machine stolen from Boston.

The officers gave chase, commandeering a passing car. The fugitives made good their escape when they discovered they were being followed.

A short time later, while the officers were at Clark and Lowell streets, they saw two young men walking across the street. The pair tallied with the description of the occupants of the stolen car.

HANIFIN, REPENTANT $100,000 BANK LOOTER, MAY GET JOB BACK

PRESIDENT, OLD CHUM, AIDS HIM

Police Prosecutor, However, to Go Through With the Plans to Press Charges

Springfield, Oct. 3.—William J. Hanifin, Union Trust Company guard, who stole $100,000 of the bank's funds and ran away to Chicago, where he got "cold feet" and returned, penitent, after expressing all but $300 back to the bank, can have his job again if he wants it.

The absconding guard is now in seclusion pending the outcome of police court action against him. Officials of the bank are disinclined to prosecute Hanifin in view of the fact that he returned all but a small part of the stolen money, and in consideration of his hitherto excellent record of service.

W. J. Hanifin.

President William E. Gilbert of the trust company, a boyhood chum and schoolmate of Hanifin's, is standing by his friend as are Hanifin's relatives and friends.

But Attorney John H. Madden, police prosecutor, is determined to go through with the Hanifin case. He said today:

SCOFF AT STATEMENT:

"Of course Hanifin will probably plead guilty and ask for leniency. But we're here to prosecute all transgressors regardless of influences and connections. Hanifin will be treated just as any other defendants when this case comes up for trial."

Close friends of the four-day fugitive, for whose capture the city of Springfield expended almost $1,500, are scoffing at the statement issued as coming from Hanifin following his return from a "moonshine bit" which took him and $100,000 in $20 bills to Hartford, New York and Chicago.

One of Hanifin's confidant's said to an American reporter today:

"That moonshine demonstrate yarn is hokum. I know what Bill drank the night before he went away and how much he drank. It was good Scotch whiskey and Bill was not bad off when he went to bed. On the morning of the day he went away with the money he had a couple of eye-openers of the same stuff before he reported for duty. He wasn't drunk by any means, nor was he in a daze from moonshine."

HAS SAVED $8,000.

Attorney W. G. McKechnie, Hanifin's counsel, is authority for the statement that the penitent guard can have his old job back if he wants it.

It became known today that Hanifin, who was paid $30 a week, with bonuses at Christmas, has almost $8,000 in savings.

Whether the bonding company will furnish surety for him should he return to his job and whether the depositors of the trust company will agree with the plan of President Gilbert to reinstate Hanifin are questions which will be answered after the police court case is heard.

MRS. GUISEPPE DE YESO

WORLD FLIER NELSON KISSED BY ACTRESS

Chicago, Oct. 3.—The world fliers, headed by Lieutenant Lowell Smith, were warmly welcomed again here today when they passed through Chicago, en route from Seattle, the scene of the finish of their world exploit, to Dayton, Ohio, to attend the international air races. Prominent citizens were at the station to greet them. There were cheers, handclasping, snapping of cameras, and one incident apparently not on the program when a kiss for Lieutenant Eric Nelson came from a little actress.

WORKERS CAN'T RETURN HOME BY TRAIN

Employes at Harrison Square Demand New Haven R. R. Restore Old Schedule

The New Haven Railroad is willing to carry Harrison square workers to their jobs in the morning from South Shore suburbs, but declines to take them home at night.

That's how some twenty-eight employes of the Shawmut Engineering Company and other workers in the vicinity figure it out, according to a petition filed today with the State Department of Public Utilities.

There is no train for Braintree or Weymouth stopping at the Harrison square station after 4:14 p. m. under the new schedule.

Before the recent train slashing, trains stopped at 4:55 and 5:15 for homegoers.

PRESTON'S WILL DISPOSES OF $25,000,000

Personal Employes Are Given $5,000 Each; $100,000 Trust Fund to Charity

Personal employes are beneficiaries under the will of the late Andrew W. Preston, of Swampscott, founder and president of the $100,000,000 United Fruit Company. The terms of the will were announced today by the executors.

The value of the estate is set officially at $25,000,000. The heirs are a daughter and her children, Richard P. and Patricia W. Preston, born Ong. With the widow they are the chief beneficiaries.

The widow receives $100,000 outright, with three-quarters of the income of the remained after other beneficiaries are taken care of. Her daughter, Bessie Woodbury Preston, receives $25,000 and one-quarter of the income of the remainder.

Bessie Woodbury Preston is Mrs. Eugene W. Ong. She divorced Ong, former vice-president of the United Fruit Company, after a scandal in which Ong was linked with Mrs. Walter Scott Penfield, wife of a noted international lawyer. She resigned her maiden name.

Each personal employe gets $5,000, if in the employ of the Preston family five years. For each year over five $100 additional will be paid.

A trust fund of $100,000, to be known as the "Andrew W. Preston Charity Fund," is established to provide for the assistance, care and hospital services to convalescents.

Deborah E. Lloyd gets $2,000; Isabel W. Robinson, $5,000; Martha A. Gates of Pitcher Edward Island, $1,500, and George F. Gates of Swampscott, $2,500.

"NOT GUILTY" VERDICT IN PORTLAND ELECTION CASE

Portland, Me., Oct. 3.—A directed verdict of not guilty as to all of the eight election officials of Ward 4, indicted on charges of conspiracy and fraud in connection with the June primaries, was given in Superior Court today.

The accused were James H. Walsh, Wilbur C. Corey, Charles F. McGinty, George T. Mansfield, George T. Means, Joseph H. Adams, Charles Bowen and Patrick Hilke.

GOAT FAILS TO MILK; SELLER IS SUED

A dog-and-goat tragedy of the Revere pastures is revealed by a suit tried by Judge Parmenter in the Municipal Civil Court.

Giuseppe De Riso and his wife, Revere farmers, brought the suit against Robert Bradford and William and Elizabeth Zwicker of Essex avenue, that city.

Millie, the goat, used to give three quarts of rich milk every day until fateful and unlucky May 13, the De Yesos said.

This milk was sold in Boston to wealthy families having babies in delicate health.

Bradford and the Zwickers have a German police dog that does not care for goats, apparently, and on the 13th he decided to have it out with Millie. The goat did the best she knew. She butted and kicked and jumped in the air, but the police dog carried away the honors and several pieces of the battered goat's anatomy.

Now Millie gives no milk, the De Yesos testified, and they asked consolation in the following measure: $45 for the goat; $27 for the money paid in trying to doctor Millie and restore her powers as a milk bearer; 25 cents a quart at the rate of three quarts a day since May 13.

The goat was to a field only a short distance off Proctor avenue when she was attacked.

The De Yesos raised the goat from babyhood, having paid $45 for her dam. For three years she was one of the mainstays of the modest De Yeso farm. The judge reserved decision.

CLUBS DOG TO DEATH; SAVES CHILDREN

Waltham Policeman Battles Mad Animal Shots Had Failed to Kill

A mad dog which endangered the lives of children on their way to school in Waltham today was clubbed to death by Motorcycle Officer William Lyons after the animal, with two bullet wounds, ferociously attacked the policeman.

The fight between the dog and Lyons took place at Piety Corner, Waltham, while hundreds of small children were in the vicinity. A girls' private school is also nearby.

Lyons was watching Lexington avenue for the animal. He was dispatched with other officers to scour the city after Arlington police telephoned to Waltham that a dog which had bitten several other dogs was headed toward Waltham.

As soon as he sighted the dog, Lyons whipped out his automatic and poured two slugs into the animal. They had little effect. The dog turned upon him, leaped at his throat and tore his uniform.

Lyons took refuge in an icewagon, the dog following. There the policeman drew his club and fought until the dog fell under a rain of blows.

Police in Arlington and Waltham have received no reports of persons bitten, but believe some may have been. Arlington police now step to round up other dogs known to have been bitten.

NEW WALTHAM PEACE PLAN READY

Federal Conciliator to Give Out Watch Strike Proposal Soon

United States Commissioner of Conciliation Charles G. Wood today told the Waltham Watch Company strikers that he has prepared a peace plan which will be acceptable to both sides.

In a message to Ernest Faulkner, president of the Watchmakers' Protective Association, he criticized the strikers for failing to accept the plan of last Saturday. He refused to advise the new plan, but promised it within a day or two.

The borrowed police reserves from Newton were released today and went home.

Strike leaders announce that within a week the strikers will be affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. For several weeks they have been studying labor organizations in Canada. New England textile towns, watching the local organization scheme against that of affiliation with the national federation.

President Faulkner declared that at the hearing in City Hall before the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration he will tell a story that will shift all blame for the strike to the shoulders of the company. The management of the plant, he says, will be forced to produce their records of costs and earnings before the board. Testimony will be under oath.

COOLIDGE HOLDS POLL LEAD

he falls 186 votes short of the total vote of both his rivals he leads Mr. Davis, the second man, by 1,229.

The figures up to date:

Total vote	5,705
Coolidge, Republican	2,759
Davis, Democrat	1,531
La Follette, Progressive	1,415
Coolidge over Davis	1,228
Trailing both rivals by	187
Shift of Democrats to Coolidge	220
Republicans to Davis	229
Democrats to La Follette	353
Others for La Follette	263

The accompanying table tells the story and little need be said in explanation beyond this! Another and independent effort will be made in the neighborhood of Andrew Square at the same hour in the day, namely, 5:30 p. m. Whatever the result may be, the figures will be printed here.

LYNN FIGURES.

Today's Lynn figures represent a poll taken at the police outing and a visit to the entrance to one of the motion-picture theatres.

The vote described as "At Large," represents a tour which began at the City Club, included a brief stop in the neighborhood of King's Chapel and wound up with a call at one of the branches of the State Street Trust Company.

A poll taken in front of the State House, on Beacon street, gave President Coolidge 30, Mr. Davis 11 and Senator La Follette only 3 votes.

Following, in brief dispatches, are reports of polls taken in Providence, R. I. and Manchester, N. H. Both these States are about to be the scenes of renewed efforts in the direction of 48-hour and other progressive legislation.

Coolidge Is Trailing in Manchester, N. H.

Manchester, N. H., Oct. 3.—A poll of 142 men and women by Boston American representatives in this city produced the following result:

La Follette, Progressive	65
Coolidge, Republican	45
Davis, Democrat	32
La Follette over Coolidge	20
Coolidge trailing both rivals by	33
Shift of Democrats to Coolidge	2
Republicans to Davis	1
Democrats for La Follette	23
Republicans for La Follette	12
Others for La Follette	30

The "others" for La Follette include a few Socialist votes and a great many first voters, the larger part of the latter women.

Manchester and the textile towns generally will not be surprised by the above summary. A one-year strike in the cotton mills has been followed by another year of three days' work a week—or less—and only lately the employees of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company have been requested to take a 10 per cent cut in wages.

On top of that situation, the Amoskeag has won its fight for lower taxes and the city has been ordered to pay back to the corporation $132,945. This at a time when more than one city department has spent more than its appropriation for the year 1924 and when some departments, including the Fire Department, are running short-handed.

Visits to professional offices in the Kennard, the Hill and Beacon buildings kept down the La Follette vote. The other polls were taken in the neighborhood of cotton-mill gates.

The Democrats hope to elect their State ticket again in New Hampshire and they may be helped by the acknowledgement of the Republican candidate for Governor that his nomination cost $15,000, but in view of La Follette's strength here and in other industrial centres there is little doubt that the Granite State electoral votes will go to Coolidge.

Coolidge Apparently Rhode Island Choice

Providence, R. I., Oct. 3.—If the result of a two-days' poll in Providence by Boston American reporters may be accepted as a true indication of the way in which the political wind is blowing, it can be taken for granted:

1—That the electoral votes of Rhode Island will go to Coolidge.

2—That the Democrats have an equal chance to elect Felix A. Toupin Governor and William S. Flynn United States Senator.

These are the figures:

Total vote	579
Coolidge, Republican	297
Davis, Democrat	153
La Follette	128
Coolidge over Davis	144
And leading both rivals by	15
Shift of Democrats to Coolidge	8
Republicans to Davis	32
Democrats to La Follette	45
Republicans to La Follette	57
Others for La Follette	27

Of 249 who marked their ballots in and about the Union Station, 109 voted for Coolidge, 71 for Davis, 49 for La Follette.

In front of the Biltmore Hotel: Coolidge, 51; Davis, 12; La Follette, 3.

On Benfit street and in Market square: Coolidge, 57; Davis, 34; La Follette, 15.

Model planes competed in a duration test as one of the features of the international air races. Jaros also set a new world's record for distance. His glider traveled a mile and a half. BAXTER SCORES FOX HUNT AS DISGUSTING

Augusta, Me., Oct. 3.—In a letter today declining an invitation from the National Fox Hunters' Association to attend the annual meet in Kentucky next month of the combined fox hunters of the United States and Canada, Governor Percival P. Baxter declared it matters not how distinguished the guests may be, he should not enjoy being with them upon the occasion of the hunt.

"When able-bodied men and women mounted on horses and led by a pack of half-crazy hounds, run to death one of God's harmless creatures, they present a spectacle anything but inspiring," he wrote.

"The poor little fox, terrified, flees for his life from his pursuers. He hardly has any chance to get away, and when captured is torn to pieces in a most disgusting manner."

Governor Baxter added that "hunting foxes as you propose to do lacks any of the attributes of real sport, in which each side is supposed to have some reasonable chance of winning the contest."

FOREIGN BUYING SENDS UP PRICES OF GRAIN

Chicago, Oct. 3.—With new foreign buying on a big scale plainly evident, all grain scored fresh advances in price on the Board of Trade today, the markets making many new top records for the season. World's supply figures were said to show 54,000,000 bushels less wheat available than a month ago. Rye and oats were conspicuous for the liveliest jumps. Before the initial rush of general commission house buying showed signs of a let up rye was up 5 cents a bushel, oats 3 cents, wheat 2¾ cents and corn 2½ cents.

GUILTY OF TARRING AND FEATHERING GIRL

Fredericksburg, Md., Oct. 3.—A verdict of guilty was returned by the jury today in the case of Harry Leatherman, indicted for tarring and feathering Dorothy Grandon of Martinsburg, W. Va., at Myersville.

Leatherman was convicted for aiding and abetting in the attack on the Grandon girl.

Pet Bear Kills Baby Before Horrified Mother's Eyes

Chico, Cal., Oct. 3.—Before the horrified eyes of her mother, little Georgia Pepper, three, was struck down and killed at Durham by a huge bear which all of the children in the neighborhood had regarded as a pet.

The bear, owned by a neighbor of the Peppers, had been chained for four years, and children and grown-ups alike had come to regard it almost as a pet, feeding it apples and candy.

MYSTERY IN A REVERE MAN'S DEATH

Mystery surrounds the death of James J. Quinlan, Revere city employe, whose body was found today on the doorstep of a neighbor's house.

The body was found by Thaddeus Hurlburt, of No. 17 Barrett street, as Hurlburt was leaving home for Hurlburt residence by mistake.

Foul play is suspected. Barrett's sweater was pulled up over his head as if he had been carried a distance and deposited on Hurlburt's steps. The police refused to comment on the possible cause of death before the medical examiner's investigation.

Quinlan was forty-five years old and the father of six children. He lived at No. 21 Barrett street. It is thought probable that he was out with a group of friends and that a fight may have followed an evening's party.

Police believe those who left the body meant to desert Quinlan, then either dying or already dead, on his own doorstep, but picked out the as Hurlburt was leaving home for Hurlburt residence by mistake.

GOSSIP ABOUT BIG AND SMALL POLITICIANS

William Jennings Bryan Uncorks Laudatory Appraisal of President Coolidge

John W. Davis will speak tomorrow in Providence, R. I. Mr. Davis comes to Boston three weeks from today.

The only candidate for President of the United States on whose behalf no one claims a single State delivered an out-of-doors speech in Lawrence on Wednesday night and presumably still is in New England. His name is Frank T. Johns, his home Seattle, Washington, and his party the Socialist Labor.

Senator La Follette will resume his speaking tour next Monday evening at Rochester, N. Y., and go thence to Scranton, Newark, Detroit, Cincinnati, Chicago, Kansas City and St. Louis.

This is what William Jennings Bryan, stumping the West for John W. Davis, says of Calvin Coolidge:

"I know Mr. Coolidge and like him. He is clean in public and private life, of high character and as well meaning as any man who ever occupied the White House. That's high praise of a Republican by a Democrat. I'll go further, and let any Republican go through the dictionary and pick out the best adjectives from A to Z and I'll agree they all fit Mr. Coolidge if I can add just five words, 'but he is a reactionary.'"

Governor Smith of New York will address the National Democratic Club of Massachusetts next Tuesday evening at a banquet in the New American House.

Former State Senator Thomas F. Cassidy of Adams is beginning to get on Congressman Allen T. Treadway's nerves. In his speeches around the First District the landlord of Red Lion Inn refers to Squire Cassidy as, "my perpetual opponent."

Congressman A. Piatt Andrew of Gloucester has joined the shouters against the Child Labor amendment to the Constitution.

Former Congressman Frank W. Mondell, of Wyoming, speaks tonight in the living room of Harvard Union, under the auspices of the Harvard Republican Club.

Mrs. Bessie R. Edwards, wife of General Clarence R. Edwards, has accepted the vice-chairmanship of the Massachusetts branch of the Republican Service League. The Service League, the announcement says, will bring home to the wives, mothers and daughters of World War veterans the war records of La Follette and Wheeler."

Speaker Gillett's first speech in his fight against Davis I. Walsh for the Senatorship will be made next Wednesday evening, at the New American House, before the Republican City Committee of Boston and members of the Lincoln Club.

• • •

Answer of Charles G. Dawes to the request of Senator Brookhart, of Iowa, that Dawes get off the Republican ticket: "I fired into a flock of political pee-wits out here, and some of the wounded birds are fluttering."

Republican State Committee of Iowa will take action today on Brookhart and his "break."

The case of the Portland, Me., ward officers charged with conspiracy in connection with the recent primary election in Maine will go to the jury sometime today.

• • •

"The weakness of the present party system," Senator Walsh said at the Boston University School of Business Administration, "is that the Democrats are neither liberal nor conservative and the Republicans are neither conservative nor liberal. There is no room for two parties of the same type."

Condemning any organization, "whether it be known as the Ku Klux Klan or any other name," which advocates or practices discrimination on account of race, creed or place of birth, the Republicans of Rhode Island have followed the formula adopted by the G. O. P. in other States.

• • •

Treasurer Howard Fall, of the Republican State Committee, has announced his candidacy for Mayor of Malden. A lot depends upon whether "Jack" Kimball cares for a sixth cup of coffee.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys With Jad Salts

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize acids so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Talented Phyllis Rich to Be Bride of New Yorker on Oct. 25

By BETTY ALDEN

TALENTED Phyllis Rich and Robert B. Bradley are to be married on Saturday, October 25 at the Marlboro street home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Charles J. Rich.

Formal announcement of the interesting betrothal was not made by Mrs Rich until after marriage intentions had been filed at City Hall, revealing the wedding plans of Phyllis and Mr. Bradley, a New York man.

However, formal announcement has now been made, the date has been set, the ceremonial will be solemnized in the home of the bride's mother, and from now on every rule and regulation of the social Hoyle will be duly observed.

Only members of the two families, with relatives and a few of the more intimate friends will be present at the ceremony, which is to take place at 12 o'clock at No. 15 Marlboro street.

FOR some time friends of the talented Vincent Club girl and her fiance have known of their interest in one another. Both are of excellent social position and in every respect they seem ideally suited to each other.

The bride-to-be has but recently returned from an extended stay abroad, where she has spent much of her time studying music, in which art she is considerably talented. A tall, slender girl she is, of rather striking brunette type and most attractive.

Her fiance, a Harvard '08 man, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bradley of New York and Convent, N. J. Mrs. Samuel Eliot (Anne Bradley) is his sister, and his two brothers are Francis B. Bradley, who now lives in Paris, and Charles B. Bradley, who married Constance Zerrahn, older daughter of the Franz Zerrahns of Boston.

So that marrying Boston belles seems to run in the Bradley family, as it does in numerous families of Manhattan. The former Constance Zerrahn, who now makes her home in Convent, N. J., came on this Summer to the North Shore for one of her frequent visits.

NOT for quite some time has so much romance been buzzing in the air.

The past week-end brought forth the announcement of a number of interesting betrothals, including that of Miss Carryl Sargent to Josiah N. Bacon, Jr.; Miss Helen Peabody, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Endicott Peabody, to R. Minturn Sedgwick, and that of Miss Marie B. Arnold to Alden S. Pinkham.

This week has already brought to light two more announcements besides that made by Mrs. Rich. Mr. and Mrs. Borden Covel of Brookline have made known the betrothal of their daughter Elizabeth to Arthur Bolles Patterson, Jr., and the Philip Richardsons, also of Brookline, have announced the engagement of one of their twin daughters, Miss Phyllis Richardson, to Henry De Ford, Jr., of Brookline.

Mr. and Mrs. Houston A. Thomas of "The Locusts," Hamilton, who will spend the Winter as usual in Switzerland, recently returned to Hamilton from their trip through the Berkshires.

SOVIET RUSSIA PLACES BAN ON KISSING

Health Commissar Also Rules Out Embracing of Ladies' Hands by Men

Moscow, Oct 3.—Dr. Nicholas Semashko, Soviet Commissar of Health, has issued an edict against kissing, which, he contends, is one of the most potent means of spreading disease.

The new order, if observed, will fall hard upon the Russian peasantmen, a national custom in Russia, one another not only on the lips, but three times on each cheek in salutation. Dr. Semashko is also opposed to the kissing of ladies' hands by men, a national cusom in Russia.

Not only is this unhygienic, he says, but it is a practice of the bourgeoisie, which has no place in a proletarian republic.

Hand-shaking has been prohibited in many departments of the government and signs are appearing warning employes that the practice frequently results in communication of disease. The conventional salute, hand from forehead, is suggested as a safer greeting.

Where Is Sacred Cod? Hub Ex-Mayor Can't Find It.

Is the sacred cod slipping as a delicacy in Boston restaurants?

Former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald fears that such is the case. During the recent celebration of New England Week Mr. Fitzgerald was amazed when he was unable to find cod on the menu in a large restaurant, also two other cafes.

"Cod is a New England product and ought to have a prominent place on any menu," he said.

DOUGLAS WILL LEAVES TRUST FOR WIDOW

Document to Be Filed Soon Is Expected to Dispose of Several Millions

Brockton, Oct. 3.—One public bequest of $10,000 is made by the will of former Governor William L. Douglas, it was revealed today by Judge Warren A. Reed, the executor.

This sum will go to the Universalist church at Brockton, of which Mr. Douglas was a member.

The will, which will be filed at Plymouth in a day or two, leaves most of the estate, which probably totals several millions, to a trust fund for his widow, his two daughters, Mrs. Harry B. Russell and Mrs. Amy Richmond of Brockton, and six grandchildren.

The house at No. 63 Hillside road, Brookline, and the Summer estate at Marion are left to the widow, to pass on her death to the next of kin. The furniture goes outright to the widow.

Judge Reed is given discretionary power to dispose of any common stock in the W. L. Douglas Shoe Company.

BOAT AND 4,000 GALLONS OF ALCOHOL CAPTURED

A fishing boat loaded with 4,000 gallons of Belgian alcohol, was captured at the entrance to Boston harbor by the United States customs launch Dreamer.

Two men, who comprised the crew, apparently did not understand English when questioned.

The boat, cargo and crew were brought to Long Wharf and the men locked up. They will be taken into Federal Court on the charge of smuggling. The boat bore registration number 666C.

Republican Machine Refuses to Recognize the People's Will, Says Senator

Emmetsburg, Ia., Oct. 3 (A.P.).—Senator Smith W. Brookhart, storm center in Iowa politics, who this week denounced Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice-presidential candidate, opened his campaign for re-election here today with an address in which he attacked President Coolidge and "machine party leaders."

Replying to reports that he would support the presidential candidacy of Robert M. La Follette, he said he never had a thought of leaving the Republican party.

The Republican party, Senator Brookhart charged, has strayed from the ideals of its founders, while the "machine organization has refused to recognize the "will of the people."

Senator Brookhart said that although he had been nominated "by 200,000 Republicans, without a machine and without money," and was "opposed by Wall street's money and by the President's power," his nomination had never been recognized by President Coolidge as the voice of Republicanism in Iowa.

"FOLLOWER OF LINCOLN."

Senator Brookhart declared Republican leaders refused him favor because he had differed on so many occasions from the national administration, naming a dozen issues.

"I belong to the farm bloc; the President belongs to the Wall street bloc," he declared in denouncing President Coolidge as "the machine Republican candidate."

"I have never had a thought of leaving the Republican party," the Senator said. "My whole soul is wrapped up in the principles of Lincoln, Roosevelt and Kenyon. I will fight any leaders who seek to divert the party from these great purposes.

"Issues has now arisen in Iowa as to whether the principles of the Republican party shall be determined by the voters themselves or by a small group of crooked and irresponsible dictators set up by the non-partisan league of Wall Street. This group has assailed me with renewed and vitrolic venom and I, therefore, wish to re-state my position and to reform the lines for a finish fight to oust this gang from the control of the Republican party."

Senator Brookhart said Lincoln assailed "the autocratic powers of the Supreme Court" in the case of the Dred Scott Decision; that Roosevelt assailed the "malefactors of great wealth," and that Kenyon organized the Farm Bloc for "economic freedom and equality of the farmers and common people."

SNUBBED BY LEADERS.

"These ideas," he said, "have brought me in sharp disagreement with many different elements which style themselves Republicans, and by their financial power control the policies of the national administration.

"I have said that I would do as much for Coolidge as he would do for me, and the voters are entitled to know what we have done for each other, and also to each other."

The Senator said his principle supporters were farmers and laboring people, "denounced as radicals by the President and his supporters."

WIFE WILL ASK MERCY FOR RIVAL

Says California Girl Not to Blame and Will Ask the Court to Free Her

Los Angeles, Oct. 3.—The "other woman" is not to blame in this newest "love triangle."

So says Mrs. Phil Guertin of Lomita, whose husband eloped with Marion Sharpe, pretty sixteen-year-old school girl, and left his wife almost destitute with their five children.

"I knew Phil was going to leave me," she philosophised. "He would tell me so when he was under the influence of liquor. I didn't suspect another woman, though. I didn't think any other woman would want him."

The sorrowful mother will take her children back home to Brockton, Mass., and her husband may go his way with the girl of his choice, she said. But before she goes, she will appear in court to ask mercy for the girl who stole the love of her husband. Guertin and Miss Sharpe must stand trial.

Beer Became Peppy After Seizure, So Man Is Freed

You can't blame a man for beer over which he has no control—specifically Thomas P. Drummey of Stevens street, Marlboro.

In East Cambridge court, Drummey was tried before a jury in the matter of beer that analyzed 3.18 per cent, seven days after it was seized.

Robert Hook, head chemist for Arthur D. Little Co., chemical engineers of Boston, stepped down for the defence.

Hook testified that beer of 1.50 or 2 per cent., such as Drummey claimed was seized, could have increased to 3.18 in the seven days it was stored in a warm room at the Framingham State Patrol barracks.

It took the jury only half an hour to free Drummey.

WINE CO. HEAD IS SUED FOR $100,000

Plaintiff Avers He Was Falsely Termed "Pirate" by Defendant

New York, Oct. 3.—Alec Adilman, president of the Sunset Wine & Spirit Company, of Montreal, has been sued for $100,000 damages in the Supreme Court here by Meyer Rosenthal, formerly connected with the company, who charges that Adilman and a brother, Norman, falsely charged him with the piracy of the schooner Lutzen off the United States coast several months ago. It was learned today. The Lutzen was loaded several thousand cases of liquor and the crew made prisoners.

Information filed in a court in Brest, France, where Max Jerome Pfaff, an American, is under arrest as an alleged rum pirate, mentioned a man named Adelmann of New York City, as the man "higher up" who furnished funds in unlimited amounts for the smuggling of liquor into the United States from Canada. Federal officials have started an investigation into this phase of the case.

Rosenthal, who is said to be a builder in Brooklyn, recently obtained an attachment of $10,000 against Adilman from a New York bank.

RENTS BOOSTED FOR BROOKLINE TAX INCREASE

Assessors Grin as Their Raise Is Passed Along to Protesting Tenants

Brookline's boost in property valuations hit the usual mark today and the merry process of raising rents to take care of the tax jumps was begun by landlords.

The three busiest men in Brookline, as a result, and the three men whose ears have burned continuously since the tax boosts were first announced, are the Brookline assessors, Charles H. Stearns, chairman; Charles A. Bowditch and John T. Commerford.

ASSESSORS GRIN.

Having thought the matter all over these assessors have arrived at one answer to all the heated kicks registered by Brookline taxpayers and those hardy tenants who still believe battles are won by fighting on battlefields. The assessors just grin and let the kicks fall where they may.

Immediately following the tax boosts, one landlord stowed the notice in his pocket and promptly made his rounds, collecting the rents and announced to the tenants that hereafter the monthly ante would be $5 more because of the property valuation increase. And he showed the increased tax bill as justification.

SOME BOOSTS $10,000.

It is understood that the valuation boosts range from $500 to $10,000, Brookline having acquired the faculty of thinking in large numbers. One town official, who found his property boosted $1,000 was told he was lucky it was not $2,000.

Many citizens, storming the assessors' office angrily, declare they will not pay the increases. The assessors grin.

LYNN TOO WISE FOR REVERE TRICKS

Shoe City Cops Take Away Rum Truck After the Capture

Down at Revere the police figure that any apples that fall into their yard are their's—including the core—so naturally it required the Lynn John-laws to run a four-mile chase, fire a fusilade of shots and lovingly display their revolvers, to make Revere see it differently.

The lesson started in Wyoma square, Lynn, early today, when a fast truck came speeding through, preceded by an escorting limousine.

Exhortations failed to halt the speeding truck and limousine in the progress through Lynn, and the police gave chase.

TIRES SHOT FLAT.

The truck was first pursued until Fox Hill bridge over the Saugus River was reached. Then the shooting began, with the rear tires of the fugitive as marks.

In a few minutes the two tires were flat and ripped to ribbons, but the driver seemed not to notice them. He continued to pound on the two flats until he reached Revere.

There delegates from the Metropolitan police and the Revere police joined the cavalcade, but the truck driver figured he had had enough. He whirled into th garage at the rear of John Brown's home at No. 434 Withrop avenue, where 360 gallons of alcohol were found in the truck.

"Thanks," said the Revere police with that lack of finesse not officially O. K.d by the book of etiquette. "We'll take the truck and the alcohol and the young man driver. Name, please."

LYNN GUNS DRAWN.

But the Lynn police grabbed the driver, Henry A. Lee of No. 34 Lowden street, Cambridge, and opined they would take the truck also when they had caused two new tires on.

That doesn't suit the Revere cops at all, and they said so loudly and unmistakably—rudely, as a matter of fact. Of course there was only one thing for the Lynn bluecoats to do. They unhooked their guns and patted them fondly. You could hear a pin drop—but you couldn't hear any more objection from the Revere cops.

After they had returned to Lynn with their property, the truck with two new tires and the alcohol, it was learned the vehicle is registered in the name of Abe Brown, No. 13 Charles avenue, Revere.

GOVERNOR AL SMITH TO SPEAK HERE ON TUESDAY

Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York will speak Tuesday night in Machanics Building, in behalf of the Democratic National ticket. Governor Blaine of Wisconsin, who will speak in Boston, October 20, on behalf of the La Follette-Wheeler ticket, is slated to deny attempts to pin a "Red" tag on Senator La Follette.

BABY GIRL DIES FROM HOT WATER SCALDING

Catherine Sullivan, 14-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sullivan of No. 4 Dolan court, Jamaica Plain, died today at the N. E. Hospital from the scalding she received Wednesday in the kitchen of her home when a kettle of boiling water fell over her and her eight-year-old sister, Lorraine. Lorraine was less badly burned.

WOMAN DRIVES AUTO AGAINST PRISON VAN

An automobile driven by a woman ran into the Back Bay police van on Boylston street near Hereford street, today, removing considerable paint from the van.

The police vehicle was in charge of Patrolman Chatfield and had just pulled away from the Back Bay station heading for City Prison with several prisoners when the accident occurred.

The woman did not stop her car. The car carried registration plates said by the police to have been issued to E. Mae Smith of No. 40 Ivy street, Back Bay.

WORK AT EDISON PLANT IS HALTED BY STRIKE

Work on the new power station of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company on Cambridge street near Charles street, in the West End, was brought to a standstill when union building trades mechanics went out on strike.

The strike, which will be extended to four other power stations in Greater Boston, unless the alleged grievances of the trades crafts involved are immediately adjusted, resulted, according to union leaders, from the alleged presence of non-union electricians on the job.

WORLD CHAMPION WRITERS TO REPORT WORLD SERIES FOR BOSTON AMERICAN

THE greatest staff of sporting writers to ever report a World Series for any newspaper will give readers of the Boston American the news of the World's Series between the Senators and Giants from every angle. Here is the spectacular lineup of baseball experts:

ROGER PECKINPAUGH

Nick Flatley, baseball editor of the Boston American and one of the first writers to pick the Senators to win the American League flag.

Damon Runyon, world's leading writer on athletic topics; Roger Peckinpaugh, captain of the Senators, who will tell how the games were won and lost; Frankie Frisch, captain of the New York Giants, who will report the games from the viewpoint of the Giant players, giving the inside details of McGraw's strategy.

TAD

Tad and Gene Fowler, famous humorous writers; Thomas L. Cummiskey, baseball editor of the Universal news Service; International News Service and Associated Press.

DAMON RUNYON

Of course there'll also be the latest photographs on the series.

The Old Fox

Long Overdue, but He's There Now

Any pitcher who can stick in the big baseball show for four or five years after his arm has gone dead must have a mentality of rarest craftiness. That is what Clark Griffith has. That is what gave him the well-deserved trade label of "Old Fox." When he finally quit diamond activities he transferred his mental gymnastics to the managerial end and later, through foresight and thrift, became owner of the Washington team of the American League.

Griffith was not a heavyweight physically. But he was an intellectual giant on the diamond. Never possessed of much of an arm, he got by through coupling keen judgment with rare knowledge of men. He knew players' likes and dislikes. He fed them what they didn't like. They hated him for it, but they admired him at the same time. That's why in the later days of his career he could get by with only control and a slight change of pace. He laughed while some of the powerful hitters of the day were dislocating spines swinging at his tantalizing twisters.

Griff" long has been overdue. Season after season his teams were subjects of jokes and comic songs. But the "Old Fox" is there now. It is the intellect that tells in the long run of any game, sporting or otherwise.

O'CONNELL IS MISSING; CASE A MYSTERY

HEINIE SAND TELLS WHY HE EXPOSED HIS PAL, O'CONNELL

AFRAID HE MIGHT BE INVOLVED

By HEINIE SAND
(Phillie Shortstop)

(Copyright [illegible] Service)

Hazelton, Pa., Oct. 3.—I am very sorry the affair happened as I will lose a lot of friends by telling how the offer was made to me on the first game of the recent series in New York on September 27, but I acted as I thought best and I think that I did the right thing.

It hurts me to think that my old pal Jimmy O'Connell, with whom I played on the [illegible] for several years, should suffer in this case, but when a friend of mine turns out to be crooked I have just to forget that he is a friend.

The case seems almost absurd to me, for I cannot understand why I was asked to throw the game to New York before the first game of the series was played, when the Giants were leading and looked to be able to make a clean sweep of the series. If the offer had been made on the second or third game after we had one [illegible] have been some explanation.

STORY OF OFFER.

As it was we lost the opening game 5 to 1 on Saturday and Brooklyn lost the same day, putting everything in favor of the Giants.

O'Connell and I were friends in the [illegible] League. [illegible] was working [illegible] Saturday, he [illegible]

"How [illegible] about the last two [illegible]

[illegible] your club [illegible]

O'Connell [illegible] have [illegible] to play and it will be worth $500 to you if you don't bear down too hard."

I asked him what he meant, and he said, "You know what I mean."

One word led to another, and he told me that Cozy Dolan was in on it.

I always took O'Connell for a square shooter and I was surprised. As I thought it over I became excited [illegible] "Tell your friends [illegible] there [illegible] money in New York [illegible] and that they are in for a [illegible]."

I then told Fletcher [illegible] he was hot [illegible] I guess that he preferred charges against O'Connell and Dolan with Commissioner Landis.

ABSOLVES OTHERS.

I did not want to [illegible] up to the [illegible] I was [illegible] I would [illegible] the Giants and that O'Connell and his friends would say that I threw the game. They [illegible] say that about me. I [illegible] and when I lay away [illegible] reputation will [illegible]

I am surprised that Frisch, Kelly and Young are [illegible] It's news to me that they were connected with the case. [illegible] I know those players had [illegible] with the case and O'Connell and Dolan are the only ones I know of who were in the bribery plot.

I hope that Commissioner Landis will give me permission to state my connection as I feel that some of the fans will think that I am a stool pigeon to relate to Manager Fletcher the details of the offer made by O'Connell and Dolan.

MISS WETHERED TO PLAY WITH TOLLEY IN ENGLAND

Miss Joyce Wethered, [illegible] champion of Great Britain, [illegible] England, will [illegible] mixed foursome [illegible] with Cyril Tolley in England. The tourney, one of the most popular on the calendar, will start on October [illegible] and will [illegible] with a 36 [illegible] final. The champion and her partner are favored to win the title again this year, even though the field that will compete will include many of the leading players in England.

DEMPSEY-LEWIS MATCH DISCUSSED ONCE MORE

WATCH THE WORLD'S SERIES FROM WINTHROP SQUARE

WATCHING the World's Series returns from Winthrop square is due to be the most popular outdoor sport in Boston during the next few days.

Elaborate plans for the edification of the army of fans have been made by Jim O'Brien, Boston American bulletin announcer.

Returns will be given on the American's big display board, on the front of the new building in Winthrop square.

This newspaper will have a special wire direct to the playing fields. Play by play, the games will be flashed back to Boston, from the first ball thrown in Washington on Saturday afternoon to the last ball thrown in the last game of the series, wherever it may be.

Jim O'Brien will operate the board and Jack Stafford, former baseball umpire, will megaphone announcement.

Next to having a front seat in the Washington grandstands when the Senators and the Giants go to work, this is the most satisfactory method of following the great games that can be imagined.

Tomorrow's game begins at 2 p. m. Standing room is plentiful in the square, but in all probability every available foot will be taken by the time the game starts. Come early and pick out your place.

Huston for Giants, but Picks "Griffs" to Win Series

Colonel Tillinghast Huston, former part owner of the Yankees, reviewed the World Series outlook in his characteristic manner today.

Col. Huston

"I want the Giants to lick these Senators to a shred" was the opening amazing statement with which the Colonel opened his discourse.

"That's a nice way for an old American Leaguer like you to talk," was the challenge hurled back at him.

"All right, take it or leave it, that's my sentiment," retorted the Colonel, "but kindly take note I didn't say the Giants were going to win.

"In fact, in my opinion, they will be beaten and Walter Johnson is the man who is going to do the business. He'll win two games sure, and Zachary and Mogridge, with Marberry helping out, perhaps will do the rest.

"But I'd like the Giants to win. I'm hoping for the Giants [illegible], don't forget that."

Johnson Advocates Calling Off of World Series

Chicago, Oct. 3 (Universal).—Ban Johnson, president of the American League, said the World's Series should have been called off as quick as evidence of attempted bribery was secured.

"It would appear that we were handed a championship club to compete with that is tainted in the things it represents," he said. "In view of the public statements, the World's Series should have been called off."

CHARGES AGAINST FIRPO LIKELY TO BE DISMISSED

New York, Oct. 3.—Immigration Commissioner H. H. Curran today recommended to Secretary of Labor Davis that the deportation proceedings instituted against Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavyweight, be dismissed.

Ellis Island officials said that this would entitle the pugilist to remain in the country provided the commissioner's recommendation is not overruled by Secretary Davis. Another action against Firpo, charging him with perjury in connection with his entry into the country last July, is pending before United States Commissioner Hitchcock.

Griffith Commends Landis

Washington, Oct. 3.—Clark Griffith, president of the Washington baseball club, commended Commissioner Landis for his speedy action in declaring ineligible the two members of the New York Giants, charged with attempted bribery.

Both Griffith and Manager "Bucky" Harris expressed regret that any charge of dishonesty among players had cropped up again in major league baseball.

WORLD SERIES AT HOWARD AND BOWDOIN

Those who follow baseball closely will find interest in the announcement of the World series games beginning Saturday at the Howard and Bowdoin Sq. Theatres. It is the custom at these theatres to give the full returns of big sporting events and the rooters for New York and Washington will be on hand to cheer their team to victory.

— By B. C. Forbes —

"I have observed that worthless people are always expecting an important letter."

That is the meatiest observation you are likely to read in a long while.

It comes from that shrewd old codger, Ed. Howe, the sage of Potato Hill Farm, Atchison, Kansas. Ed., who writes the entire contents of "E. H. Howe's Monthly," has lived long, traveled much, seen [illegible]. He [illegible] what [illegible]. He delights in unmasking pretense. [illegible] who promise [illegible] if elected.

His pet [illegible] is that success is easier to attain than failure. He has written a book to prove it. This extract from the latest issue of his unique publication gives you an insight into his reasoning:

"In teaching morals one of the common arguments is that sin is pleasant, and righteousness a heavy task. Such teaching isn't experience or real life. The most wretched people we have are the evildoers. The man with a reasonable amount of success to his credit gets along easier and more comfortably than his neighbor who is a failure. There is more pleasure in thrift and work than in idleness, waste and dissipation, and honest and industrious men always have most money. I wish I might somehow [illegible] people to [illegible] the importance of the simple [illegible] comforts, and [illegible]."

Coming back to the sentence quoted at the opening of this column, "I have observed that worthless people are always expecting an important letter," haven't you yourself noticed the same thing?

One of our social friends, who visits us often, enjoys quite a reputation as a "fortune teller." She does it by reading tea leaves in the bottom of cups. The eagerness manifested to have cups "read" amuses and interests me. Neighbors will even bring in their cups so that they may be enlightened on what is in store for them.

It has occasionally happened that men who have attained important positions in the world have been visiting us when the tea leaves' seer has been giving a seance, and I have noticed that such men were not at all eager to have their cups diagnosed. Invariably they made fun of the whole proceedings.

"[illegible]!" you exclaim? Perhaps. Yet Ed's penetrating comment immediately brought the tea cup reading to my mind and I have found myself thinking upon the subject time and time again. I believe there is in all this a lesson for many of us.

What is the lesson?

Those who keep looking for "important letters" and who excitedly seek to find "good news" in the bottom of tea cups depend too much on luck, on chance, on happenings beyond their own devising. They are constantly looking for others to do things for them. They fondly hope that somebody or something will somehow cause a miracle to happen, a miracle that will bring them money and fame and happiness.

* * *

Those who get on best in [illegible] world have earned not to look [illegible] others for wonderful windfalls [illegible] depend upon their own earnest, sustained efforts, upon their own brains, their own hands, their own savings. They waste no time in idle dreaming that somebody or something will somehow come along and toss a fortune in their laps.

* * *

I constantly meet and receive letters from [illegible] learned to depend [illegible] efforts and their own merits. They are always looking for "a stroke of luck" and fretting because nothing wonderful comes their way. They do not realize that success has to be earned. They regard success as a sort of streak of lightning which without any particular reason hits some people but passes by others including themselves.

* * *

Don't keep looking for "important letters." Don't seek your fortune in tea cups.

Buckle down to hard study and hard work. [illegible] Make up your [illegible] winning.

Then [illegible] long since [illegible] in an [illegible] portant event [illegible] bring you [illegible] EARNED.

QUINCY FIRST WITH RAILROAD BACK IN 1826

By FRANK H. MELOON, Financial Editor.

David R. Francis, former Governor of Missouri, one time ambassador to Russia and Secretary of the Interior under President Cleveland, has just helped out the celebration of his 74th birthday by visiting the New York Stock Exchange, of which his St. Louis firm, Francis Bros. & Co., has long been a member.

David R. Francis

Mr. Francis keeps young by annually enjoying our New England climate. His Summer home at Rye, N. H., is one of the many beauty spots of that section, not far from the Summer residence of Lieutenant Governor Alvan Fuller. Mr. Francis is very sociable, and has a wide acquaintance among the Bay State [illegible].

* * *

What was the first railroad in the United States?

While the Baltimore & Ohio and [illegible] be [illegible] the [illegible] in [illegible] work for Quincy.

There are other authorities, but we quote from Scudder's "History of the United States".

"A year after the Enterprise sailed for India (in 1825 initiating steam navigation for America), the first railroad in the U. S. was opened in Massachusetts, from the Quincy quarries to tidewater. It was only two miles long, and was used for hauling granite; the cars were drawn by horses. It was the first use of rails in America."

The Baltimore & Ohio is planning to celebrate its centennial in 1927, clearly antedated by the Quincy line. The Baltimore & Ohio "coaches," like those at Quincy, were horsedrawn during its first year of existence.

The Pennsylvania's claims to precedence are based on charter issuance, rather than on operation. Secretary Samuel H. Church says:

"In 1812 when an act authorizing the construction of the Erie Canal was pending John Stevens laid before the New York Legislature the results of his numerous and protracted researches, declaring that he could build a railroad at much less cost, and urging the construction of a railroad instead of a canal.

"The commissioners, DeWitt Clinton, Gouverneur Morris and Chancellor Livingston, less far-seeing than he, opposed his views, and the canal was built from Albany to Buffalo, 358 miles, in 1825. Stevens then turned to the Legislature of New Jersey and induced that body to grant him a charter, February 6, 1815, to construct a railroad from New Brunswick to Trenton, to be operated by steam locomotives, and this was the first charter granted in the United States for the building of a railroad.

"But Stevens said [illegible] embark their funds in a project then considered wild and [illegible] and the railroad was not built under that charter, but the greater part of the Pennsylvania Railroad's New York division lies along the route chosen by him. Thus we can say [illegible] that a vital part of the Pennsylvania Railroad now lies upon [illegible] first railroad charter [illegible].

"On March 31, 1823, Stevens was delighted to receive a charter from the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

"This charter authorized the construction of a railroad from Philadelphia to Columbia, and the act declared that the enterprise should be called 'The Pennsylvania Railroad.'"

Wall Street Man Discusses Cotton

A PROMINENT Wall Street man said: "I've just been up to the Worth street district. Cotton goods men tell me they cannot sell cloths.

"Look at the board. Raw cotton selling around 26 cents a pound—$130 a bale.

"Mills down in New England are merely marking time.

"If raw cotton sells at $130 a bale under the present depressed conditions in the textile industry, what, in the name of goodness, would it command if there was activity in the mills?"

They will be secured by the deposit and pledge with the Girard Trust Company, Philadelphia, as Trustee of the trust indenture under which the bonds will be issued, of the following securities:

Any securities so substituted shall be fixed interest bearing bonds or dividend paying shares of Railroad Companies and the value of such securities shall be determined by appraisal in the manner to be provided in the trust indenture. In case of partial redemption a pro-rata amount of each class of the pledged securities may be withdrawn.

The proceeds of the sale of the bonds will be used to retire part of the 6% note now held by the Director General of Railroads. This issue will therefore result in a substantial reduction in the annual fixed charges of the Company.

Application will be made in due course to list these bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

TODAY

VARIOUS RELIGIONS that fight constantly in India seek an agreement with Gandhi at the head of a peace committee. Moslems hate Hindus because they play music near Mohammedan mosques. That's an insult to the Koran. Hindus hate Mohammedans because they slaughter sacred cows and eat them. Other religionists are full of hate because certain citizens refuse to recognize the sanctity of holy monkeys.

While that goes on the English smile, and with a handful of white men rule three hundred millions of Asiatics.

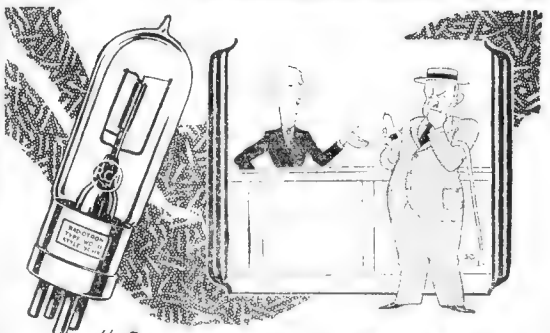
"Are those Tubes Genuine?"



The question is heard at every radio counter: "Is it a genuine Radiotron?" Almost every dependable manufacturer uses genuine Radiotrons in his sets. Everyone who builds his own knows enough about radio to know that nothing else but the genuine will do. And the man who replaces used tubes in his set knows that to get the same performance, he must have the same tubes—genuine Radiotrons only. Soon everybody asks "Is it genuine?" And asks to see the marks that prove it—the name "Radiotron" and the "RCA" mark.

3-MINUTE JOURNEYS

By Temple Manning

CHINA, mysterious land of the Orient, famous for its picturesque pagodas and magnificently decorated temples is, notwithstanding all its beautiful surroundings, a country where the most unbearable living conditions exist.

The rich people of the empire live on the fat of the land, while the poorer people have to be content with whatever they earn. As wages in China are very low—amounting to only a few cents a day to the most skilled workers—it can easily be seen that hardship, toil and suffering is the daily lot of the less fortunate inhabitants of this strange land.

No one in China works harder than the porters. These poor men, human driftwood in the swarming seas of humanity, that make up China's vast population, are treated as beasts of burden. Their daily fare is one continuous round of labor. From sunrise to sunset they plod along carrying exhausting loads up steep mountain trails, through shallow streams, and across rough trails, too rough for animals or wheeled vehicles.

They live on from day to day neglected and uncared for. No one is responsible for them, and if at any time the load on a porter's back becomes too heavy and he drops exhausted to the ground, there is always another porter willing—indeed, eager—to take his place.

It isn't unusual to see a thirty-year-old Chinese porter with gray hair and bent back, caused by a constant life of suffering and toil, trudging along with a burden that seems to defy the imagination as he is the magnificently decorated temple in his suddenly plodding by.

THE HELPING HAND

By Dr. F. X. Mahoney, Boston Health Commissioner.

DON'T let the approaching cold weather boost the gas poisonings.

The increasing use of gas heaters, for hot water and heating purposes, has raised the hazard from carbon monoxide poisoning. Until many cities have been forced to take stringent measures to protect the public.

Dr. Mahoney.

Carbon monoxide, which is a common constituent of manufactured gas, produces a non-poisonous product when burned under proper conditions. It is one of the most useful heat-producing elements in commercial gas.

Faulty pressure, poor installation and cheap tubings and apparatus, however, have joined in making the use of heating and illuminating gas a real health menace.

Small, steady leaks frequently keep a house continuously filled with the odor of raw gas and slowly poison and undermine the health of the family, who are so used to its presence that the odor does not disturb them. Not until someone becomes ill or the leak increases until a real tragedy ensues, are steps taken to remedy the condition.

Pressure conditions have much to do in determining the quality of service rendered. The pressure should be the same at all times, two inches being the minimum pressure, and six inches the maximum.

If a person is suffering from gas poisoning, try to reach the nearest hospital or place where oxygen is kept. Many hospitals are now using a 5 per cent. mixture of carbon dioxide in oxygen, which increases the elimination of the poisonous substance.

Do not give a stimulant if the sufferer is very weak because the heart has evidently undergone considerable strain and any additional stimulating agent may over-activate the heart, and cause death.

Rest, fresh air and fluid feedings are prescribed if the patient's brain has been affected by the poisoning.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

I am very nervous. Would you please tell me a good physician I could go to?—L. B.

We do not give the name of any physician in this column. Suppose that you subpoena a physician of some kind, and then you will be personally cured. You could go to the neurological department of either the Boston City Hospital or the Massachusetts General Hospital, if you want to have a physical examination.

Please advise me of a safe remedy for removing freckles from the arms and face. Also advise if a Dr. Squibb outfit is O. K.—F. O. B., Lexington.

Most of the so-called freckle remedies are very liable to cause a discoloration of the skin, so that the freckles are replaced by a small white patch. In some cases this discoloration may be more or less dangerous.

Please tell me what I can drink except tea, coffee and cocoa.—L. D., Newport.

Try milk or cocoa shells.

'CHICKIE' APRON GETS SHOWING TOMORROW

Picture of Dainty Garment Will Be Printed in Boston American

Just by way of good news for the ladies who just know they can't get along without a "Chickie Tea Apron" and who can't wait until they get a look at one, a picture of one of the aprons doing its stuff will be printed tomorrow.

Then—on Monday—comes the big bang. You're getting your tea canister all shined up, in anticipation.

Don't forget that a pretty apron goes a long way towards warming up the welcome to hubby when he comes dragging back from the office at night after cleaning up only a miserly $90 or $60 or something for the day.

You wouldn't go to meet your best fellow in the old days looking like something that had been rescued—and of course you don't know. But you know what we mean—kind of tired after the day and no use changing the house dress, and all that.

There's no necessity now. You can take your pretty tea apron, slip it on, give a pat or two to your hair —and there you are, looking like Cinderella at 11.55 and with two shoes on.

Three rousing cheers!

Third Cut in Gas Price

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 3.—The price of gasoline dropped another cent a gallon today when the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey posted service station quotations at 18 cents, including the 2-cent State tax. It was the third 1-cent reduction in two weeks.

Double Chin Vanishes!

Uses Sangrina and Dr. Folts' Soap

The secret way to take off fat does not call for drugs, exercises, diets or baths. All one needs to do to have a trim, slender figure is to get from the drug store some of Dr. Folts' Soap-for-Reducing & then apply at night and morning on fat parts as directed. W. B. writes us that for weeks she faithfully used this soap with the most wonderful results. This is all she knew of it. Every night she would gather with Dr. Folts' Soap and rub in on her bust, hips and double chin, until the lather on a few minutes then washed off. Her measurements before starting this soap, easy way were as follows: Bust, 53. Hips, 64. To-day Bust is 38. To-day Hips are 44. She says that she had a double chin, which made her look years older. It has entirely vanished. Dr. Folts' Soap has already helped a great many people to take off excess fat, although in the past it had only been made in a limited quantity by the Doctor himself, who kept his formula for his private practice. Lately it has been prepared in convenient soap form, and can be had from most leading Drug Stores. No diets or exercises are necessary. It is guaranteed ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS, and is remarkable to beautify the skin and rid of pimples or eruptions. BEWARE OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS. ASK FOR AND GET DR. FOLTS' SOAP.

Only an "INSPECTED" car can receive the blue certificate of inspection. It is your protection and safeguard.

If you do not see the blue Certificate on the windshield of the car you want to buy, ask the dealer to have an inspection made, by telephoning the Boston American, Liberty 4000. No charge nor obligation.

Cars which pass our inspection are, of course, the good cars. Thus, the list below contains the pick of the USED CAR market in Boston. All types of cars, at all prices, and all Inspected.

That Anti-Bonus Cry Is Disproved

Everyone remembers how certain reactionary business interests viewed with alarm the soldiers' bonus and how the Administration first implored and then threatened the members of Congress who voted for it.

Every Republican Congressman who had been applauded as a patriot when he voted to pay the railroads a billion dollars in post-war claims and the war contractors $800,000,000 was denounced as a waster of public money when he voted adjusted compensation for the soldiers and sailors who by bravery and sacrifice made possible our success in war. The Old Guard threatened to retire to private life all such.

Senator Lodge solely for this reason was publicly humiliated at the Cleveland convention.

Congressman Gibson was read out of the Republican party in the President's native Vermont.

The most influential Republican club in Portland, Me., turned Congressman Beedy's picture to the wall.

Senator Capper was excoriated in Kansas. Senator Couzens was labeled "Bolshevik" in Michigan.

Well, there have been some elections and primaries since then. And what has happened?

Senator Capper was renominated by probably the greatest majority ever given a Republican candidate in a Kansas primary. Congressman Gibson was renominated in the Republican primary in Vermont, where a Republican primary is equivalent to election. Congressman Beedy was re-elected in Maine. And Senator Couzens was triumphantly renominated in Michigan.

All these victories scored by Republican Senators and Congressmen were in popular elections and primaries, decided by the people, not in party conventions, dominated by Old Guard bosses.

Jay and George

And the Gould Money

Jay Gould is in heaven, let us hope, and along with him his son, George J., a much better man than some of those that criticize him, including some worthless relations that never did a day's work in their lives.

George J. used to work in his father's office, took the load of business off his father's shoulders after consumption had attacked the father, and it delighted old Jay Gould's heart when he, George J., only 14 years old, won $70,000 in one day's speculation, telling his father about it when the money was in bank.

Where they are now, money probably doesn't make much difference to Jay and his son, George. But old Jay Gould must shake his head when he realizes that every time the lawyers meet—and they meet pretty often—to fight over his will, it costs the heirs $10,000 A DAY.

Judges appoint separate guardians for each one of the great-grandchildren. Jackals, surrounding a big buffalo calf, never had a better time than New York lawyers are having with those helpless Gould heirs. However, that scatters the money.

Revenge in Sight

The Crowd Cheered

"A frenzy of patriotism," says the Associated Press, "marked the arrival in Berlin of the giant Zeppelin ZR-3 above the roofs of Berlin. Not since the war's start in 1914 has there been such excitement as greeted the appearance of that great airship built by Germans for the United States."

It's easily understood. The Germans realized their own supremacy in aircraft building when they saw that monster ready to sail away 3,000 miles across the ocean to the nation that will own it. The Treaty of Versailles forbids Germany to build for her own use flying ships that can be made useful in war. But treaties are scraps of paper sometimes.

The Versailles Treaty will be scrapped as soon as Germany has power to scrap it. That giant airship means to the excited German crowd a chance to get even.

Tit for Tat

Very Annoying

Unpleasant in modern war is the fact that semi-barbarians can play at it as well as others. In old days "civilized nations" could send a few trained soldiers to discipline barbarism.

Now the Moors, under Abdel-el-Krim, propose to blockade the Spaniards who are fighting them. They are buying two submarines left over from the late war, and will use them to sink Spanish ships bringing supplies to the Spanish army in Africa. That's another hint for this country, sleeping so peacefully in its national campaign.

Any nation attacking us from the East or West would come through the air FLYING. And it would announce its arrival with TNT, or worse, from above.

Her "Ancient Right"

Not for Our Ships

The League of Nations "recognizes and confirms" England's ancient "right" to board and examine all ships on the high seas.

England examined many American ships on the theory that she owned the ocean during the last war. But the United States would hardly enter into a permanent agreement on that basis.

It is well for us that we are out of that league. There have been Presidents in the United States, including Cleveland, Jackson and several others, that wouldn't have been as good-natured as Woodrow Wilson was with England.

On the other hand, Andrew Jackson probably never would have been invited to spend a week-end at Buckingham Palace, and that glory would have been lost to our history.

What Would We Do Without Her?

MRS. SOLOMON—SAYS

By HELEN ROWLAND

Helen Rowland

MY Daughter, the Sport of Queens, now and forever, is the pursuit of the wild bachelor. And, for this there is NO "closed season."

Then glid on thy loins with the new Paris imports, and prepare thy weapons for the Husband hunt. For the "game" is more important than the fox, and fleeter than the young gazelle.

Behold, bachelors are of three varieties:

Those who BEG a damsel not to capture them.

Those who warn her not to TRY.

And those who bind her a rope, and DARE her to capture them.

And of these, the last is the most deadly, and the most intriguing. For, to bring down a tame and trembling pigeon is no sport; but decoy a stricken the blood of every Diana.

Go to, my Daughter. Be not deceived by the Confederate Host of bachelors as "confirmed" until he is dead and there is nothing more to be afraid about any more bachelor hood until it is announced in his obituary. Verily, an hour is as far and travel upon two feet he is fair game!

What though he entrench himself in a bachelor apartment and surround himself with defences, and mercenaries, and fellow-bachelors?

The huntress will take to disguise her wits and her weapons and smile within her sleeve. Yea, she will say hah-ha! For she knoweth that only the fearful and the vulnerable herd together in self-defence. The BRAVE man traveleth alone.

Or, heed my counsel, my Daughter, and waste not the weapons upon the Eligible Thing that fortifieth himself behind the skirts of a "brother and sister." Lo, then, doth a strong woman tremble, and a wise one turn away from the chase.

For no woman yet hath prevailed over THIS combination.

Yet, when a damsel setteth her heart upon the capture of a man, neither pleas, nor threats, nor mothers, nor sisters, nor defiance can stay her.

She is deaf to the warnings of her friends, and blind to the menace of her rivals; and only exhaustion can put an end to the Dance of Death which she performeth.

Then, verily, Salome, herself, had nothing on her!

For, Salome was content with the head of her victim; but the modern sportswoman preferreth the head alive, while he is still ALIVE—and fighting.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

"IN a hundred years hence it will all be the same and whatever endure we may go, one before that time's up will have finished the game; good or bad, right or wrong, who will know?" With this time-worn excuse many men are content, it's a comfort they would not forfeit, to they follow along in their natural bent while all effort they firmly decline. Yet my story is old: Throw a stone in the pond and then watch how the circles grow wide till the ripples reach out to lave the shadow lies cool from the trees on the farther side. Time's a limitless lake, every act man may do take the stone sends its waves flowing far; who can say when the life lives in the dustiest seed and at last, in some dim and inscrutable way, it will wake in the hour of need. It may drift, soul to soul, as the lake's ripples spread till its wide stretching rim is immense; from the seed sown today countless flowers may be bred to bring fruitage a hundred years hence!

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

The sum of wisdom is, that the time is never lost that is devoted to work.

* * *

Cause is a substance exerting its power into act, to make one thing begin to be.

It is some commendation that we have avoided to characterize any person without long experience.

* * *

Far from taking away its value, everything which makes virtue accessible, simple, familiar and companionable, makes its use more frequent, and its reality a great deal less doubtful.

Appeal from Boy

Helping Hand Editor:

I am a boy eight years old. Is there any kind readers who can help us. We need shoes and clothes. My mother is sick and not able to work. She got cold because we did not have enough bedding to cover us. We cannot get food sometime. There are five of us, boys 11 and 9, and girls 6, 3 and 1 year old. We will be so glad to get anything.

Helping Hand Editor:

If you will send me the address of a family that has girls of school-going ages, either in Roxbury or South Boston, will take them some clothing.

MRS. R. J. C.

Thank you. We are sending you the address of M. D., Roxbury, who will appreciate any help you may give her in the line of clothing.

May Lose Home

Helping Hand Editor:

I wonder if someone of your kind readers can't help me get a job. I am a young husband 21 years old and have a son one year old. I have been idle two months now and can't get a thing to do. If I don't get something soon, I will lose my furniture. I have a store bill and I am back on my rent. My landlord said if I don't get some money by next Saturday he is going to let the house to someone else, so please don't pass me by.

MR. J. F. K.

Grateful to "Winthrop"

Helping Hand Editor:

I wish you would thank the lady who sent me some clothes for my children. The box came from Winthrop, but there was no name on it. The things are very nice and came in very handy.

Child Wants Ukulele

Helping Hand Editor:

Won't some kind reader please send me any kind of an old ukulele that they don't want any longer. There are nine children in our family and we are poor, so there is no way of getting this instrument. I want to play for the children so much. I am just thirteen, and I could never thank the one enough who would send me it.

Coat for Winter

I have two dresses, size 46, also heavy Winter coat, which I would be glad to give to someone they would fit.

MRS. E. S. C.

Many thanks, Mrs. G., mother of several small children, wears this size clothing and will welcome your offering.

Girl Going Blind

Helping Hand Editor:

I am writing in behalf of a little girlie, age 3½, who is slowly going blind. She is now in the hospital undergoing treatment for her eyes. The doctor says she will go blind in a short while. We would like to make her a little happier. She begs for a doll carriage and a teddy bear. She has neither mother nor father. I am her mother's aunt and am 74 years old, so am not able to purchase these things for her. Won't some of your kind readers try and make her happy?

MARY D.

Thanks for Shoes

Helping Hand Editor:

I wish to thank the kind friends who sent me the shoes for my two children. They were very much pleased, as was myself. My husband wishes to thank them also, although neither of us know their names.

MRS. C. J.

Baby Needs Clothes

Helping Hand Editor:

Your kind column has helped me once and I am very grateful for the favor. My baby is now seven months old and needs many things for the Winter, so I am asking the column to help me to help myself. Perhaps there is someone who could give me typewriting to do at home, addressing envelopes, cutting stencils, etc. I have had experience and can do neat and accurate work.

NONE CAN FORECAST GROWTH OF CITY

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE growth of any city seems to be under the control of a power not of itself.

No one can tell how it is going to grow or in which direction it is to grow. There would be much profit in real estate if one knew.

It seems strange that most of the repairs in the roads of a city appear, to take place at the time when they are being used the most. In London, for instance, during the Summer when the city should have been at its best for its thousands of visitors, and just at the time when travel was at its highest peak of the year, street work seems to have been feverishly active. Going along its main streets from the Marble Arch to Ludgate's Circus, one is confronted by a continuous series of holdups where workmen, indifferent to the traffic about them, are digging up the road.

One relates a good story which has been heard lately. A young man was entertaining his mother-in-law at the height of the Summer season. In order to impress her deeply with the wonders of London he hired a motorcar for an afternoon's drive. They went to all the interesting parts of the city and wherever they drove they were met by the usual red barriers which held them up for several minutes. Finally on the way home, along Regent Street, they discovered that every other building was covered with scaffolding for remodeling. When they arrived home the young man said: "Well, Mother, what do you think of London?" After thinking for a moment the old lady replied: "Well, my boy, I think it will be nice when it is done."

Continual alterations are being made in the great capitals of the world. Fifth Avenue, in New York, and the Champs Elysees, in Paris, are being invaded by shops and there are these who prophesy that soon they will cease to be residential districts.

It is a curious thing that the underworld, or the tenderloin or whatever you call it, meaning the disreputable portion of the city, is usually to be found between the business and the residence districts.

The reason for this is that the people of this kind are usually very transient, do not like long leases and are very temporary in their stays.

More and more the residence portion of any city is being thrust out into the suburbs.

ANCIENT REMAINS OF MEN IN AMERICA

By Garrett P. Serviss,

Famous Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest

IT seems, upon the authority of geologists of the University of California, supported by the accordant opinions of others, that the human skeletons recently found in the outskirts of Los Angeles are by no means as ancient as it was at first thought they might be. Professor Stock says:

"While the present report has not shown that the deposits containing the human remains are old in the sense that they belong to a geological period antedating the Recent period, the age of these beds and of the human remains might well be measured in terms of thousands of years, but not necessarily tens of thousands."

By the "Recent period," geologists mean the time that elapsed since the cessation of the last phase of the Glacial age. That age, with its several successive invasions of ice, separated by intervals of mild climate, is included in the period known as the Pleistocene, and may have lasted altogether 300,000, or even 500,000 years. Only in the latter part of the Pleistocene is man known to have existed on the earth, but even so these first human types must have appeared 50,000, or even 100,000 years ago. In truth, all of these estimates in terms of years, or centuries, are lacking in exactness, though undoubtedly trustworthy in their general sense; that is to say, when taken as showing only relative age.

In other words, the story of the Garden of Eden and of Adam and Eve might be said to find some support in scientific discovery, since both agree that man began on a certain part of the earth, and spread outward from that location, instead of appearing at different places scattered over the surface of the globe. Ancient tradition knew nothing of America, but it did know something of a vanished continent, lying in the direction of America, which was said to have sunk beneath the waves of the Atlantic.

This "Atlantis" of tradition modern science recognizes as probably the last remnant of a vast "landbridge" which once connected the eastern and western worlds, and may, therefore, have provided the way by which the human race, after originating in Asia-Europe, spread to the opposite side of the globe.

It is significant that one after the other every attempt to trace back the presence of man on our continent to an antiquity corresponding to that of early man in the old world has resulted in the conclusion that—as far, at least, as can be determined from geological and archaeological records—man's appearance on this side of the Atlantic is relatively recent. He came across the great bridge tens of thousands of years after the birth of his race in the East; then the bridge was destroyed, and he was left isolated in the new world, developing civilizations like those of Mexico, Central America and Peru, marked by racial ideas common to him and his ancestors, but unable to make general and permanent advances, so that when he was rediscovered in the days of Columbus and Cortes he seemed as new to his discoverers as the world he inhabited.

Such a view of the origin of man in America of course leaves much to be accounted for. And it should not be regarded as excluding the possibility that in early times men also crossed in America via the Pacific Ocean, some coming over a "land bridge" in the north and others making their way "from island unto island" through the archipelagoes of the Central Pacific, which in former times may have been more numerous and more closely situated.

But, however that may be, it appears that all of the Archaeological remains of the western continent are of relatively recent date. Their age is not even to be compared with that of the historic periods of Greece, Rome or Egypt, to say nothing of the vastly more ancient remains and monuments left by prehistoric races in western and central Europe. Our "new world" date back not even as far as the times of Julius Caesar, while those who inhabited the European caverns antedated the most ancient records of human history, sacred or profane, and lived under a different dispensation of the Equinoctial Procession.

ONCE-OVERS

DO NOT WASTE YOUR TIME ON "WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN."

At times when you look at your partner, do you wish he or she were different? Do you have someone in mind whom you wish your better half resembled in habits, form or manner?

But do you stop to think that every human being has faults? Perhaps the person you wish your helpmate were like has many disagreeable traits which would be more annoying to you than those of your life companion.

You might be deceived by that ready smile or that well-groomed appearance.

In and about your house that person may be ill-tempered and slovenly.

The cheerfulness you are so attracted by might turn out to be a mere pretense.

Most persons keep up an appearance of good humor, and few have as much genuine good temper as they would lead others to think.

Too many look upon the home as a place to give vent to their ill temper.

You should consider yourself fortunate if you have a companionable teammate and not be foolishly dwelling upon what "might have been" had your choice been otherwise.
